O, the wheat is waving whisksers And the corn is waving whisksers And the stalks are waving whisksers And the horres blask for pickers, And the ows give miter milk,
And the thidwoson is flouting in the air.

And the eggwos are new fater Is a peepin from the hill, And the flax says, "Won't you twist me into A rope for the mill."

And the ghost-dust covered mitter Is a gridin' at the mill,
And the pump's in a spoolin' at the vine,
And the corn's in a spoolin' at the vine.

For the weather's smoky blue,
And the little ones are swinging on the gate;
The melon and the cucumber Are both making much ado.

And the office-seeker's seek 'g'er the state,
And we hear the loud exhorters, For his own campaigning time,
And the chickens are staying very low,
And the harvest moon gives quietures To all those without a hoe.

And loaves all where gentle breezes blow,
And Jack Frost's feet has feathered,
And the squirrels are in a glow,
And the thrasher's hum is heard throughout The land.

And the nuts will soon be gathered,
And the pumpkins will be gathered,
And Nature's music beats the known band.

And the elder press is grinding All the nectar from the fruit, And the farmer takes his milk out the fair,
And we see the guard a-trimmin'.

White the pines are flouting in the air,
And the thidwoson is flouting in the air,

Messrs. J. J. Jewell.

Suite for $500.00 damages have been filed against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad in the Circuit Court of Clark county. One suit for $100.00 is for the death of Mrs. Mary Kearney, an aged lady who was run over and killed in the C. and O. yards at Winchester.
Twenty thousand dollars each is asked for the death of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Ripard, who were killed while crossing the C. and O. track in a buggy. They were on their way to Winchester to meet the body of a relative who had been killed by a train, and were run over by the same train that brought the body of their deceased relative.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use Sprays of Flax, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy.
To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Flax Spray Co. printed near the bottom of the package. For

NEW YORK, September 21st, 1899.

Special Telegram to Manager James W. Fitzgerald, Ohio Valley Carnival and Horse Show—Maysville, Ky. You will today inaugurate the auto-louie Festivities. Let me assure you that in the premium list and amusement features presented for your patronage you have gathered a feast of attractions which I hope may draw the crowd such enterprise and public spirit deserves. A more pressing engagement here precludes my being with you.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT.

MR. PATRICK QUINN.

His Death Occurs Tuesday Night—Fatal
Today From His Residence.

The death of Mr. Patrick Quinn occurred suddenly Tuesday night at his home on the Lexington pike.

Mr. Quinn was 68 years of age and was well known in the county.

He was a native of Ireland, but for the past forty-eight years has made his home in this section.

Five children survive.

The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock today from his late residence and the remains will be interred at Washington.

announces that a special examination will be held by its Postoffice Board of Examiners in this city October 4th, commencing at 9 a. m., for the positions of Clerk and Carrier in the Postoffice.

No application will be accepted for this examination unless filed in complete form with the Board at the Postoffice before the hour of closing business on September 29th, 1899.

For application blanks, full instructions and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, apply to the Secretary of the Board of Examiners at the Postoffice.

ANOTHER LIE NAILED.

Facts and Figures of Interest to All Voters.

THE TRUE DEFICIT OF KENTUCKY.

Shuffling of Democrats, in Its Efforts to Make Political Capital, Exposed by the Searching Rays of Truth.

The following appeared in the Glasgow (Ky.) News of late date:

"For the fiscal years 1898 and 1899 the Republican state administration collected nearly a half million dollars in franchise taxes in excess of the amounts collected from similar sources during a like period of Democratic administration, and yet the deficiency in the general expenditure fund for 1898 was $524,194.23. At the close of the fiscal year 1899 the deficit in the general expenditure fund was $225,806.73, an increase of $299,387.50 over the previous year. In the face of such a record as this the Republicans have the audacity to ask the people of Kentucky to allow them to control affairs for four years longer. Is it any wonder Goebel refuses to make speeches in behalf of such a cause?"

Is it any wonder that the people are losing all faith in statements emanating from Goebel sources when they are confronted with such arguments as this? Mark how plain a tale shall put this confuser of the truth down.

The law now is and for many years past has been that the revenue derived from a tax of 5 cents on each $100 of assessed values shall be set apart for the sinking fund, and shall be transferred to the sinking fund, and the manner prescribed by law. The deficiency figures given by the news appear large in comparison with the figures of Democratic deficits for previous years simply because the Republican administration strictly followed the law, and its books show the actual condition of the treasury, while the Democratic administration disregarded the law in order to hide the true deficit in the general expenditure fund from the people. The difference in the methods was a matter of bookkeeping resorted to by the Democratic administration to justify it in its efforts to make capital by reducing taxes to a lower rate than the necessities of the state required.

Democratic Deficits.

Now we will give the Democratic deficits in the general expenditure fund as they would have appeared in each year from 1892 to 1895, inclusive, if the Democratic administration had made their books show the facts as the Republican administration has done.

The deficit in the general expenditure fund for the year ending June 30, 1892, as stated by Auditor Norman, was $273,118.88, but no transfers of the taxes were made to the sinking fund for the months of September, October, November and December, 1891, amounting in the aggregate to $237,975.14, but this sum was used to offset the general expenditure fund without passing through the sinking fund as required by law. If it had been properly transferred the deficiency in the general expenditure fund would have appeared as it really was, $511,094.02, instead of $273,118.88, as it was made to appear.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, the deficit was given as $225,- 920.04, but no transfers were made of the proceeds of the 5-cent sinking fund tax for nine months in that year and to get the true deficit that would have appeared if the law had been followed, $280,655.00, the proceeds of that tax, must be added, making the deficit $511,094.02.

Thus it appears that during these four years an aggregate sum of $1,095,- 885.83 was kept out of the sinking fund to cover the deficit in the general expenditure fund and the deficit kept up notwithstanding the facts that during that period the general government had refused to the state the sum of over $600,000 on its war claims and that the auditor from time to time had to suspend payment on warrants, and yet the fact of these facts shows that Democrats have the cheek to ask the people to elect Goebel.—From Louisville Commercial.

LEXINGTON HERALD

Points Out Inaccuracies in Some Statements of Mr. Goebel.

A candidate for governor delivering a carefully prepared speech has no excuse for making inaccurate statements.
Since the repeatedly and practically undented statements of Captain Stone it is peculiarly incumbent upon Mr.
Goebel to be strictly accurate. Yet he seems to be quite careless in his statements. We do not know how many have been deceived, how many corrected, as he was more anxious to illustrate this carelessness we select these:

He declared that although Governor Bradley had vetoed the election bill he had since said it was an improvement on the old law. Governor Bradley promptly denied that he had ever made any such statement. Has Mr.
Goebel ever refracted that statement and given to his audience the denial of Governor Bradley?

To justify his charge that the Lexington convention was the creature of railroads and other trusts, he announced that Mr. P. W. Grinstead, who represents a publishing house, was present at the convention. Mr. Grin-stead publishes that he was not at that day in Monroe county. He made certain charges as to the politics of the officers of election in Bell county. The charge was wrong and shown to be a mistake.—Lexington Herald.

KEEP THEIR FEES.

The Kentucky Fiscal Court Renders Decision Affecting Circuit Clerks.

Judge Caffery has rendered a decision in the State Fiscal Court, holding that Auditor Stone has no right to hold back fees from Circuit Clerks who are indebted to the state for fees erroneously paid them in felony cases before that act was invalid. The judge decides in favor of Circuit Clerks J.
A. Craft of Letcher county, H. M. Cox of Morgan county and L. P. Mayo of Floyd county.

The decision holds that, while the Clerks should pay back the amounts erroneously paid them in felony cases, the Auditor must pay them their legal fees and risk the chance of collecting on the old account by other means.

The decision affects half the counties in the state.

Don't be too hard on Mr. Bryan. He declared in 1898 that it would be impossible to have higher prices and good times under the gold standard. We have higher prices and good times, the best we have ever had, under the gold standard. It must be embarrassing to Mr. Bryan. Just think how you would feel yourself under such circumstances.
